Who We Are

Crescent Technosoft was founded in 2005 by Syed Mohammed Mahe Alam, a trained software engineer who set out to build more than a software company — an institution that would globalize technology and uplift lives. Guided by strong family values and a deep respect for knowledge instilled by his father, the educationalist Syed Badre Alam, he built the company on a dual mission that still defines it today.

Global Technology Delivery

Implementing high-tier technology solutions across critical industrial sectors worldwide.

Bridging the Employment Gap

Transforming raw, unemployed graduates into polished, high-performing software professionals.

Over 21 years, Crescent Technosoft has navigated shifting technology and economic cycles with a relentlessly positive, never-say-die attitude — continuously reinvesting in its own growth to guide the company into its next phase of global expansion.

THREE PILLARS OF IMPACT

Education

Tools that streamline learning and administrative efficiency.

Healthcare

Reliable digital infrastructure for hospitals, clinics, labs and pharma.

Manufacturing

Automation software that drives industrial productivity.

"A career launchpad for graduates and a technical partner businesses trust."
